ADA NOW ABSOTUTELY DRY

All Two Per Cent Beer Joints Closed by Deputy U. S. Marshal Brents--No More Malt Liquors, However Weak, will be Tolerated Sold

During the forenoon Deputy U. S. Marshal T. E. Brents served notice on all the six drink joints of Ada that they must cease doing business and close at high noon, and stay closed as long as the federal officers have authority in this section—in other words, until statehood is proclaimed. All jointists have apparently complied, and Ada is now as "dry" as any town ever has been.

It's been many a day since Ada was what is termed a "wide open" town, one where it was easy to procure intoxicating liquors.

But because of more or less uncertainty about the law, the officers have not vigorously fought the sale of weak malt liquors, the so-called "2 per cent" beers. So, Ada, like most other towns of the Territory has supported all along several "joints" whose chief income was from the sale of such beer. But it appears to be all over now, at least, until statehood, then the problem will be up to the county officers to grapple with.

Deputy Brents returned from Ardmore this morning with orders from Marshal Porter to close 'em up, and later he received a telegram from Sam Cone, "Pussy-foot" Johnson's deputy, containing like orders. It appears that Johnson's force and the U. S. marshal are co-operating in this shut-down in (Continued on Page Four)

INDIANS ON THE WAR PATH

Utes of the Far West Sore at Advancing Civilization--U. S. Troops Requested to Subdue the Braves

Washington, Oct. 25.—The tribe of Ute Indians, which more than a year ago wandered away from their reservation in Utah and created trouble in Colorado and Wyoming by threatening to take the war path and raid ranches is reported to have again broken out on the Cheyenne river reservation in South Dakota where the tribe was given temporary quarters. At the request of the secretary of the interior the war department yesterday ordered troops from Fort Meade, S. D., to the scene of the trouble. The character of the outbreak is not known here.

Colonel Downs, a special agent of the Indian office, is at the Cheyenne river reservation and a telegram was received from him saying that the Utes had become unruly and troops are needed. Fort Meade is about 100 miles from the reservation and it will be necessary for the cavalry to make a cross country hike as there is no railroad between the two points.

It was dissatisfaction with advancing civilization that caused the Utes to leave their reservation in Utah and take the road the last time. The secretary of the interior finally agreed that the Indians would not be compelled to return to Utah but that they must settle down on some reservation. At the Utes request the Cheyenne river reservation was selected and two townships were leased for a period of five years in order to supply them with homes.

There are about 600 of the Utes involved including many young Indians.

MILLIONS AFFORD RELIEF

$100,000,000 Poured in by Government and Financiers Averts Panic in New York--Outlook Encouraging

New York, Oct. 24.—The aggregate of money which has been contributed to weather the storm and restore confidence assumes truly colossal proportions. Roughly estimated it includes $25,000,000 which Secretary Cortelyou deposited in the New York banks, $25,000,000 which the Morgan pool brought to the floor, $10,000,000 which John D. Rockefeller deposited with the Union Trust company, and finally another $50,000,000 which, it is understood Mr. Rockefeller stood ready to advance to meet any further stress of conditions—in all considerably in excess of $100,000,000.

As a result of today's developments in the financial world there is every indication that the crisis in the banking and trust company situation has been safely passed. The Trust company of America all through the day's banking hours paid out money to depositors as rapidly as possible and matic episode of the day was the emptying of money into the stock exchange through a pool headed by J. P. Morgan and other financiers in order to avert a ruthless selling out of stocks held by brokers which was threatened because of their inability to obtain renewals of loans on which these stocks had been carried.

A remarkable condition brought about this extreme stringency. Certain large interests of great financial resources had been charging recently what was in effect, if not legally, usurious rates of interest on call loans. One institution that had been engaged in this practice was itself a member of the clearing house and was severely criticised by other bankers for its action on the ground that this added an unnecessary complication and strain on the money situation. As a result of the criticism this institution withdrew its support and declined to of-closed today with demands having been met.

A very favorable feature of the situation respecting this company was that it was able to make its payments with very little assistance and another was that the company received over its counters in the morning hours in ordinary deposits more than $1,000,000.

The day was marked by these noteworthy episodes. First and earliest in the day came the announcement of trouble in three minor state banks in Harlem—the Hamilton bank, the Twelfth ward bank and the Empire City Savings bank. These banks transacted only a neighborhood business, and their suspension of payment was absolutely without significance as bearing on the general situation. State Bank Examiner Judson declared this afternoon that all three were solvent and that their depositors would lose nothing.

The second episode was a big run begun upon the Lincoln Trust company. At the close of the day the company's officials announced that they were fully able to meet all obligations.

By far the most notable, even drafer money on call on the stock exchange. The effect of this was to run the rate for money today up to 100 per cent, and when that figure was quoted an extremely sharp decline resulted in the stock market. Union Pacific, a ten per cent stock sold down to par.

At the time that excitement was at its height the announcement was made that a pool had been formed with J. P. Morgan at its head, to come to the rescue of the brokers for it was necessary to provide funds at once in order that they might carry stocks they were holding for their customers.

The effect of the relief measure was instantaneous, and the rate of call money dropped from 100 per cent to ten per cent. When the stock exchange closed every one was getting all the money he wanted. The close was marked by a memorable scene in which the brokers gathered around the principal trading posts and gave three cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan and the members of the pool who had saved the day.

RED LETTER DAY FOR OKLAHOMA

First Work of the State Immigration Association.

On the day that President Roosevelt signs the proclamation that makes Oklahoma a state, "Red Letters" will be mailed from all over Oklahoma to thousands of people in every state in the Union, advising the most event.

The Oklahoma Immigration and Industrial Development Association, composed of the Commercial organizations and representative business and professional men of the state, has been organized for the purpose of exploiting and advertising the resources and opportunities of Oklahoma, with a view to increasing the already large and steady influx of new settlers to our state.

Thousands of special letter heads, upon which is printed matter descriptive of Oklahoma and its advantages, are being prepared by Secretary Jas. C. Jones at the association headquarters at Pauls Valley, Okla. These letter heads, with envelopes also bearing advertising matter, all printed in red, will be distributed to the people of the state through the commercial organizations. Every public spirited citizen is expected to write to ten or more friends outside the state, upon this "red letter" stationery, telling of the wonderful opportunities afforded by the new state in every line of business, agricultural, mechanical and industrial.

All of these letters are to be mailed on the day that President Roosevelt issues the proclamation admitting Oklahoma to the union. The association hopes by this plan to thoroughly cover the United States and thereby attract many new settlers to the new state.

The Immigration association is undertaking a great work for Oklahoma and it is hoped that the hearty support and co-operation of all the people will be given to this, its first effort.

ENCOURAGE HOME ENTERPRISE.

Heretofore the Capital has had occasion to say something about the Publishing Printers' Trust and the advisability of the newly elected officers sending their orders for the supplies outside of the state. Some of them have not only been disposed to do this but, without, perhaps, information, have been giving orders to printing houses which are not only in the trust but are employing "scab" labor exclusively.

These outside printing houses did not do very much in the way of electing the new officers. They did not publish newspapers in the new state and take chances of losing other business standing behind the candidates who proved to be the winners. They did not spend one cent in trying to carry the election for the constitution. They did not care. But as soon as the newspapers and the print shops of the new state had won for the democratic a decisive victory these outside shops, the printing trust of the organized big cities, flooded the two territories with their men and sought to take the work of the state, of all the counties, out of the state to the detriment and loss of the local printing offices, and at the same time take advantage of the men just elected, many of whom are unacquainted with the prices which should be paid for the county work, and, as is told in the following story, rob the officers and the counties at the same time.

The Guthrie Capital is the worst republican paper in the state. It has proven itself a wrongdoer all the time in matters political, but a old saying still makes good "out of a evil some good may come," and the Capital has at last put up something which is tangible so much so that it should be read by every officer-elect in Pittsburg county.

The Capital says:
All Oklahomans should be loyal to Oklahoma industries—especially when all things are equal.

B. occasionally a set of hide-bound politically warped individuals are met with who care nothing for the progressive side of the home enterprise question.

They prefer to buy outside Oklahoma even though they have to pay more than they are asked by an Oklahoma firm.

A case in point is related:

The Hughes county officers just about to come into office, ordered their county records and supplies of George D. Barnard & Company, St. Louis, at a contract price of $300 more than the same books and supplies were offered them by an Oklahoma firm.

And to show what extent they are willing to go in order to send the county's money out of the state, the firm to which the Hughes county officials gave their order is a non-union establishment, whilst the Oklahoma firm which offered to fill the order for $300 less, is a union office.

These gentlemen pose as democrats and one of the great factors in carrying into office democrats in the late election, was the union labor element of the state.

It would look as though there was "bug" under the chip, when county officials deliberately put the taxpayers to an extra expense of $300—donate to a foreign firm to all appearances, a bunch of money—and especially at a time when every dollar spent should count as 100 cents in actual worth to the county.

It might be of benefit to the taxpayers of Hughes county to look into this little $300 leak—McAlester Capital.

An Appreciative Subscriber.

The News is in receipt of a good letter enclosing a dollar on subscription from our old friend, J. B. Shirley, who now lives at Hazel, Seminole county.

J. B. intimates the News is the most welcome visitor that comes to his home bringing as it does, full tidings of his old home and old neighbors. Says he "Couldn't possibly get along without the News."

Get onto the building boom in Ada and into it, if you have the herewith to improve a lot. Haven't you observed there is not an empty house, desirable for any purpose in town? People are clamoring for houses to live in.

Now that Kansas, prohibition Kansas, has decided that "2 per cent" is beer and under the ban, Muskogee should sit up and take notice.

News from all western cities tell that financial conditions are healthy. It is only the gamblers of Wall street who are worried.

Just two months from today, dear children, till Christmas, you may begin to count the weeks now.

*****
That Great Contest Coming.
Last week it was stated that The News was preparing to pull off the most attractive subscription contest ever conducted in the state.
On account of the almost stupendous nature of the contest, the details have not been completed and it will require another week's preparation before the premiums to be given away may be named and the rules to govern the contest be specified.
As is generally known by advertisers, the Weekly News' present circulation is larger than any other country weekly publication in the state, but we continue ambitious, and since we are situated in the center of one of the best counties, it has been determined to publish a paper fully commensurate with the opportunities this land affords.
The commercial interests throughout the new state are straining every fiber getting ready to take advantage of the certain unprecedented prosperity which from the dawn of statehood will bless the people of Oklahoma. That the Ada News has made preparation to come into its proportionate part of the reward and secure its measure of prosperity is evidenced in the substantial home it occupies and its up-to-date equipment. The News is again proud to feel that it has a place with the moving van of prosperity, because during its six years of publication it has always been a booster, spoken the truth, given the important news, and has never struck a blow below the belt.
The long and short of it is, The News is already fairly well established, has a large investment in a plant and is situated in a community of people who are to govern themselves, and who in great part will presently own their homes. It is determined to make it the leading weekly publication of this part of the state. To succeed, we are going to offer more than a Thousand ($1,000.00) dollars in actual, substantial values in premiums for subscriptions to the Weekly News. The values are not going to be built on any fictitious proposition. Honorable, conservative business men acquainted with our proposed proposition will give the public estimates of the value of the properties we shall offer in premiums for subscriptions to The News.
Watch for the details of this rare offer. There will be a variety of valuable prizes, one or more of which will attract anybody, regardless of age or sex. They will be no more gew-gaws, they will be things to keep, things to add materially to your belongings.

GET READY TO CELEBRATE.
Before the end of November the Oklahoma Portland cement company's plant will be ready for operation. By that time all the equipment for the new waterworks will have been installed. Let's arrange for a gala day an appropriate celebration of Ada's entrance upon a new era. Let Ada on that day with due ceremony cast aside its swaddling clothes and enter upon its career as a great industrial town.
It would be the appropriate thing for the 25.00 club to make the arrangements.

Worth a Trial.
There is so much rheumatism here now that the following advice by an eminent authority will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.
Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime, also drink plenty of good water.
It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torturous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.
This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after while.

INDIAN PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Government Will Keep Control Until New State Can Buy.

Muskogee, I. T., Oct. 25.—It has been announced by government officials that the school properties of the five civilized tribes as well as other public buildings, will not be disposed of for some time, notwithstanding the clamor of the Indian for a final settlement of their tribal affairs.

The secretary of the interior is convinced that it will be a long time yet before the state of Oklahoma will have a school system established in Indian Territory. Until such time it will be the policy of the government to maintain Indian schools just as they are now conducted. This requires school buildings and the government will keep the title in the Indian nations. The school buildings will be utilized for normal schools and other state schools, and the council houses and similar property will doubtless be sought by the counties in which they are located.

The seminaries at Tahlequah, the female school at Eufaula in the Creek nation, Eimahaka and Mekuskey, in the Seminole nation, Jones Academy and Armstrong academy, in the Choctaw nation, and Bloomfield seminary, in the Chickasaw nation, are the finest school properties. Some of these are magnificent buildings and modern in every respect. The two seminaries at Tahlequah are the most valuable—they are easily worth $200,000.

The Cherokee council house is in Tahlequah, the county seat of Cherokee county; the Creek council house at Okmulgee, the county seat of Okmulgee county; the Chickasaw council house is in Tishomingo, the county seat of Johnson county; the Seminole capital at Wewoka, county seat of Seminole county. These council houses are admirably adapted for the purposes of a county court house and doubtless will be bought by the counties, when they get the money. The Choctaw council house is at Tuska-homa in Pushmataha county, and Antlers is the county seat.

While the Indians want the money now, the government evidently intends to wait until the prospective purchaser gets the money and can pay cash. In the meantime the government will have control of all Indian property of this character.

Indigestion
Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Acidity, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sour complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

HASKELL PREPARES FOR THE PROCLAMATION

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 25.—Governor Frantz, Mrs. Frantz and Judge Clayton left for Washington yesterday morning with the copies of the constitution and ordinances adopted by the constitutional convention, and the returns on the election. They are to be presented to the president Saturday.

Arrangements are being made here for the coming of statehood. Governor Elect Haskell has announced that he would go before a notary to be sworn in as governor as soon as he receives a telegram from Washington announcing that the proclamation is signed.

He is preparing to call the legislature to meet November 24.

CONCRETE DWELLING HOUSES.

Thomas A. Edison is working upon iron molds for a model three-story dwelling house to be built of concrete. The molds he expects will cost $30,000, but when he has them he can set them up anywhere helped by skilled workmen at $1.50 a day, who will also mix and pour in the concrete and he expects to be able to construct commodious, fireproof houses for about $1,000 apiece.

Six days will be allowed for setting and drying, after which the tenants may move in. There will be no need for fire insurance in houses of this kind, and landlords will not be in continual fear of their property being ruined by tenants.

Edison has succeeded in accomplishing most of the things to which he has set his hand. If he can realize his present project he will perform a double service to his countrymen, who not only need fire-proof houses but are anxious to check the destruction of the forests—Oklahomans.

Of course Mr. Edison will order his cement from the Ada factory. In an experiment of such importance he can't afford to use ordinary material.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves, or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by G. M. Ramsey.

Copeland Cusses Cotton Gamblers.

J. J. Copeland, the Center merchant, was a visitor in the county seat today. It's something fierce the way he denounces those gamblers in New York for pulling down the price of cotton and Jap is right about it.

He says he has a telephone, and tries to keep up with the market, but that cotton has been going down so fast during the last few days it drops whole dollars a bale while he quits the phone to go buy a bale.

Jap reports the center-Ada road in fine condition now, and the farmers of his country, duly appreciative of Ada's efforts in this regard and of Ada's maintaining such uniform good prices for cotton.

Thanks for the Roses.

Judge J. P. Wood presented the editor with a beautiful bouquet of roses today. They are especially to be prized at this time of the year in a town which has no greenhouse. The judge also presented us with an enormous lemon, one of 28 which grew on a dwarf tree only four feet high. This lemon came not as the proverbial lemon of slangdom, but like the flowers, as a token of good will.

While Judge Wood is a thorough-going gentleman of the old Southern school and so naturally likes flowers and all things really beautiful—still The News suspects its gratitude is due rather to the ladies of the Judge's household who in all probability had more to do with the nurture of the roses.

To Men Only.

Bring your boys from seven years old up. The lecture will impress them and do them good. Nothing will be said that you would not like them to hear.

Remember the revival at the Presbyterian church is warming up. It will do you good to attend these services. J. R. BROWNE.

Progress on Waterworks.

As is usually the case in completing big pieces of construction, the new waterworks plant has not been completed as soon as expected.

The work of installing the new pumps and motors is still in progress, and will not be finished before next week.

One of the line shafts connecting pumps with motor got bent and had to be taken to the cement company's machine shops for repairs, and it has not been easy to get laborers needed to wind up the work.

Today a force of men began construction of the telephone line to connect the pumping station with the city.

J. P. Steed's Mother Dead.

A delayed message came to Mr. J. P. Steed, one of Ada's leading merchants, this a. m. announcing the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Jane Steed, aged 75 years, at her home in Groom, Texas.

The message was dated 3 p. m. yesterday, the 24th, and on account of the strike, was sent to Dallas, and mailed from that point here.

The intelligence was quite a shock to Mr. Steed, as he says that when he last heard from her, two weeks ago, she was in perfect health.

The last resting place of the aged mother will be at Post Oak, Texas, her old home. Five grown sons survive her. E. H. Steed, of Tupelo, will join Mr. Steed, of this city, this evening, and they will leave via Frisco tonight for Post Oak, Texas.

The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the News.

THE COMFORTS OF HOME.

Showman Is Prepared to Enjoy Life on the Road.

The family of W. I. Swain, of the W. I. Swain Theatrical company, is on the road with Mr. Swain practically all the time, but its members suffer none of the hardships of the ordinary thespian, for he has provided for them a special car of the Pullman type that is a model for ease and comfort. The car was erected four years ago at a cost of $16,000 and would easily cost $26,000 at present prices. For the family use one-half of the space is taken up with drawing room and office, buffet and sleeping room. These are equipped as if they were rooms of the modern dwelling, every necessity and convenience being supplied. The remainder of the car is divided into guest chambers, dining room, sleeping rooms for other members of the company and store rooms of various kinds. Hot and cold water all over the car, the finest beds and bedding that can be bought and every luxury in the refrigerators and closets make life worth living on this traveling palace. Ornament has not been neglected in building the car, either, for every available space has been utilized in decoration, and every surface on the interior is covered with imported French plate mirrors. The outside of the car is finished with varnished poplar and the inside with quarter-sawn oak and solid brass trimmings. The three wheel trucks that make the car ride every joint with the slightest jar make traveling a pleasure for those who are fortunate enough to be its inhabitants.

JUDGE DICKERSON.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Affairs of state, applications for political appointments and personal visitors occupied President Roosevelt today. Governor Hoch, of Kansas, and Senator Curtis of that state, presented the name of James T. Dickerson of Chickasha, I. T., for federal judgeship in Oklahoma.

Governor Frantz, accompanied by a delegation, left Oklahoma City today for Washington, bearing the constitution of the new state. Governor Hoch said he belonged to a band of third-termers in Kansas, who would "run over everybody else at the national convention like a herd of Texas steers."

The first cabinet meeting since June will take place tomorrow.

Acting Secretary of War Oliver conferred with the president on the location of the statue of General Grant, the excavations for which in the botanical gardens in this city was recently suspended on the president's instructions, after protests that it involved the cutting down of historic trees.

General Granville M. Dodge and other members of the statue commission will be summoned here soon to confer on the subject.

ADA NOW ABSOLUTELY DRY

the Southern District, and probably the lid is being put on tight today in all towns in the Chickasaw Nation. Dealers are being generously allowed time to ship stocks of goods back to the brewers. Those who try to sell any more will be arrested and their goods smashed.

It is thought the jointists will lie quiet for a few days, until statehood is proclaimed, then try once more to ply their vocation.

It is even possible that many will try to conduct an outright saloon business. Many bar fixtures are being shipped into the Territory just now, which is ominous of such an attempt. Two Denison men have already tried it at Ref. They started out selling genuine "Blue Ribbon" beer at 25 cents a bottle, it is reported, but very soon the officers put a quietus on their business, and each of them is now under bond to answer to the grand jury.

Ed Brents says the lid is certainly going to stay on tight now as long as he remains an officer in Ada.

Edgar D. Smith, Insurance.

Than Edgar Smith, whose residence is Holdenville, probably there is not a more popular life insurance agent in this field. During three years preceding, he has been a frequent visitor in Ada, and following each visit it would always be safe to assume that many more of the people of the community had prepared for the great contingency and had invested for those dependent. Mr. Smith is district agent of the Merchants' Life Association of Burlington, Ia., a company as substantial as he is capable in his business.

The more attractive features offered by this company are included in the very low premium, rates the unusual large reserve deposited under the control of the state of Iowa and in the enviable reputation of those men who constitute district and general agents and directory of the company.

But in this report there is lacking 69 counties which last year, had ginned 495,000 bales. So, to today's report should be added at least 235,000 bales.

BANSHEE OR DEATH WRAITH.

This is One of the Oldest and Most Respectable Ghosts.

One of the oldest and most respectable types of ghost is the banshee, which may be regarded as a near relative of the "death wraith," inasmuch as it gives warning of impending death by uttering lamentable wails, says Lippincott's. Some families take great pride in the possession of such "spooks," a good example of which is described by Mrs. Levey of 7 Castle terrace, London, who writes: "The night when my mother lay dying was one of great pain. At about nine o'clock there came a fearful wail of a woman's voice, as if swaying to and fro past the windows. I ran to the window, but no human being could be there, as the room was two flights up and no houses near. She died at 10:30 p. m. My father and family sat at dinner on the evening of February 4, 1868, when the same fearful cry or wail filled our house. At eight o'clock next morning my youngest brother died quite suddenly. The same thing happened on my father's death in 1887; likewise on the death of my sister in 1889, and on the death of another brother in 1890." This banshee seems to have been rather out of place in London, such wailing ghosts (which are not seen and cannot therefore be properly termed apparitions) being especially domesticated in Ireland, where they are usually associated with dilapidated castles and an impoverished and long-endured gentry.

Light-Toed Gentry.

"The best pickpockets," said the detective, "are the Hindoos. You have to call them light-toed as well as light-fingered, for they can lift a watch or purse as easily with their feet as with their hands. Trained from childhood, these bare-footed rascals are wonderfully skillful with their toes. This gives them a great advantage. A Hindoo in a crowd will stand with his arms ostentatiously folded and sneak with his foot the wallet from your trousers pocket."

Tragic Nine of Diamonds.

Carefully preserved at Stairs castle, the Aberdeenshire seat of the earl of Erroll, is a single playing card which recalls a never to be forgotten tragedy. It is the nine of diamonds (hence called to this day "the curse of Scotland"), on which the duke of Cumberland wrote his order for the butchery of the brave Highlanders who were taken prisoners at the fatal battle of Culloden.

Pen Economy.

The merchant before filling his inkwell dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. "Thus," he said, "I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. You see, the corrosive power of the ink, which is immensely strong, vents itself on the old pens kept in the well and has little or no strength left wherewith to attack the pen I have in use. Try this scheme, young man, and you will find that your pens will practically never wear out."

He Left the House.

While a lady was feeding a hungry tramp the other day she discovered he was pocketing her silver spoons. Opening the door, she exclaimed, "Drop those spoons, you scoundrel, and leave the house!" "But, madam—" "Leave the house, I say!" screamed the infuriated woman. "Leave the house!" "I go, madam," said the tramp, as he reached the front gate, "never to return, but before I go I would like to say that I did not intend to take your house."—Illustrated Bits.

Not Equal to Luxuries.

A dapper young man took a seat on a bench in Madison Square Park, says the New York Press. Sunning himself at the other end of the bench was as fine a specimen of the genus hobo as ever disfigured a landscape. After seating himself the dapper young man drew a handsome silver case from his pocket and extracted therefrom a cigarette. With the cigarette between his teeth, he drew out a silver matchbox, to find it empty. Snapping down the lid, he turned to the tramp, hesitated, then said: "I beg pardon, my friend, but do you happen to have a match?" Hands plunged into his trousers' pockets and legs sprawled out before him, the tramp surveyed his neighbor with an air of deep melancholy. "Say," he muttered hoarsely, "who do you think I am—J. Pierpont Morgan?"

Women Who Should Shave.

"One thing I am proud of about New York women," said the man who just got home, "is that they are clean shaven. I never saw anything like the side-whiskers and beards on the women in France, Italy and Switzerland. In Paris once I walked into a shoe store and stood there petrified, forgetting what I went in for, the big brunette cashier at the desk had such a furious mustache."

Advice as to Alaska.

There will be an element of surprise in the advice of Dr. Henry Gannett, of the United States geological survey: "If you are old, go to Alaska by all means; but if you are young, wait." Mr. Gannett gives this reason for his advice: "The scenery of Alaska is much grander than anything else of the kind in the world, and it is not at all to dull one's capacity for enjoyment by seeing the finest sights first."

TRUE TO HIS PROMISE.

By Their Own Testimony, Doctor Had Rejuvenated Patients.

A German doctor who claimed to have discovered the secret of restoring youth, advertised in London that he could in two days rejuvenate the most decrepit man. This brought a crowd of ancient dames to his house. At the first interview he invited each patient to write her surname, Christian name and age on a piece of paper. The ages whereof they pleaded guilty varied, but all ruled high. The doctor undertook to give each patient the promised elixir next day. On the appointed day the doctor regretted that he unfortunately had mislaid the paper containing his youth-seekers' ages, and he, therefore, requested each one to write it down and call again. In writing down her age the doctor found each woman took many years on the age she previously admitted. The doctor, pretending to have found the first papers, called them to witness, comparing the lists, that he had kept his word, inasmuch as in 48 hours they had all become many years younger.

One Step at a Time.

It is wonderful how much practical wisdom about the smallest perplexities of daily life comes to men who keep both their feet and their wishes still until Providence—the world prefers to call it "circumstances"—clears a path for them. No doubt in all our lives there come times when we seem to have been brought into a blind alley, and cannot see where we are to get out; but it is very rare indeed that we do not see one step in advance the duty which lies next us. And be sure of this, that if we are content to see but one step at a time, and take it, we shall find our way made plain.—Rev. Alexander MacLaren

MILLIONS AFFORD RELIEF

$100,000,000 Poured in by Government and Financiers Averts Panic in New York--Outlook Encouraging

New York, Oct. 24.—The aggregate of money which has been contributed to weather the storm and restore confidence assumes truly colossal proportions. Roughly estimated it includes $25,000,000 which Secretary Cortis deposited in the New York banks, $25,000,000 which the Morgan pool brought to the door, $10,000,000 which John D. Rockefeller deposited with the Union Trust company, and finally another $50,000,000 which, it is understood Mr. Rockefeller stood ready to advance to meet any further stress of conditions—in all considerably in excess of $100,000,000.

As a result of today's developments in the financial world there is every indication that the crisis in the banking and trust company situation has been safely passed. The Trust company of America all through the afternoon hours paid out money to depositors as rapidly as possible and matic episode of the day was the emptying of money into the stock exchange through a pool headed by J. P. Morgan and other financiers in order to avert a ruthless selling out of stocks held by brokers which was threatened because of their inability to obtain renewals of loans on which these stocks had been carried.

A remarkable condition brought about this extreme stringency. Certain large interests of great financial resources had been charging recently what was in effect, if not legally, usurious rates of interest on call loans. One institution that had been engaged in this practice was itself a member of the clearing house and was severely criticised by other bankers for its action on the ground that this added an unnecessary complication and strain on the money situation. As a result of the criticism this institution withdrew its support and declined to of-

RED LETTER DAY FOR OKLAHOMA

First Work of the State Immigration Association.

On the day that President Roosevelt signs the proclamation that makes Oklahoma a state, "Red Letters" will be mailed from all over Oklahoma to thousands of people in every state in the Union, advising the mob the event.

The Oklahoma Immigration and Industrial Development Association, composed of the Commercial organizations and representative business and professional men of the state, has been organized for the purpose of exploiting and advertising the resources and opportunities of Oklahoma, with a view to increasing the already large and steady influx of new settlers to our state.

Thousands of special letter heads, upon which is printed matter descriptive of Oklahoma and its advantages, are being prepared by Secretary Jas. C. Jones at the association headquarters at Pauls Valley, Okla. These letter heads with envelopes also bearing advertising matter, all printed in red, will be distributed to the people of the state through the commercial organizations. Every public spirited citizen is expected to write to ten or more friends outside the state, upon this "red letter" stationery, telling of the wonderful opportunities afforded by the new state in every line of business, agricultural, mechanical and industrial.

All of these letters are to be mailed on the day that President Roosevelt issues the proclamation admitting Oklahoma to the union. The association hopes by this plan to thoroughly cover the United States and thereby attract many new settlers to the new state.

The Immigration association is un-

closed today wit ball demands having been met.

A very favorable feature of the situation respecting this company was that it was able to make its payments with very little assistance and another was that the company received over its counters in the morning hours in ordinary deposits more than $1,000,000.

The day was marked by these noteworthy episodes. First and earliest in the day came the announcement of trouble in three minor state banks in Harlem—the Hamilton bank, the Twelfth ward bank and the Empire City Savings bank. These banks transacted only a neighborhood business, and their suspension of payment was absolutely without significance as bearing on the general situation. State Bank Examiner Judson declared this afternoon that all three were solvent and that their depositors would lose nothing.

The second episode was a big run begun upon the Lincoln Trust company. At the close of the day the company's officials announced that they were fully able to meet all obligations.

By far the most notable, even dra-tic money on call on the stock exchange. The effect of this was to run the rate for money today up to ten per cent, and when that figure was quoted an extremely sharp decline resulted in the stock market. Union Pacific, a ten per cent stock sold down to par.

At the time that excitement was at its height the announcement was made that a pool had been formed with J. P. Morgan at its head to come to the rescue of the brokers for it was necessary to provide funds at once in order that they might carry stocks they were holding for their customers.

The effect of the relief measure was instantaneous, and the rate of call money dropped from 100 per cent to ten per cent. When the stock exchange closed every one was getting all the money he wanted. The close was marked by a memorable scene in which the brokers gathered around the principal trading posts and gave three cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan and the members of the pool who had saved the day.

Jap reports the center-Ada road in fine condition now, and the farmers of his country, duly appreciative of Ada's efforts in this regard and of Ada's maintaining such uniform good prices for cotton.

Thanks for the Roses.

Judge J. P. Wood presented the editor with a beautiful bouquet of roses today. They are especially to be prized at this time of the year in a town which has no greenhouse. The Judge also presented us with an enormous lemon, one of 28 which grew on a dwarf tree only four feet high. This lemon came not as the proverbial lemon of slandom, but like the flowers, as a token of good will.

While Judge Wood is a thorough-going gentleman of the old Southern school and so naturally likes flowers and all things really beautiful—still The News suspects its gratitude is due rather to the ladies of the Judge's household who in all probability had more to do with the nurture of the roses.

Remember the revival at the Presbyterian church is warning up. It will do you good to attend these services. J. R. BROWNE

Progress on Waterworks.

As is usually the case in completing big pieces of construction, the new waterworks plant has not been completed as soon as expected.

The work of installing the new pumps and motors is still in progress, and will not be finished before next week.

One of the line shafts connecting pumps with motor got bent and had to be taken to the cement company's machine shops for repairs, and it has not been easy to get laborers needed to wind up the work.

Today a force of men began construction of the telephone line to connect the pumping station with the city.

J. P. Steed's Mother Dead.

A delayed message came to Mr. J. P. Steed, one of Ada's leading merchants, this a. m. announcing the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Jane Steed, aged 75 years, at her home in Groom, Texas.

The message was dated 3 p. m. yesterday, the 21st, and on account of the strike, was sent to Dallas, and mailed from that point here.

The intelligence was quite a shock to Mr. Steed, as he says that when he last heard from her, two weeks ago, she was in perfect health.

The last resting place of the aged mother will be at Post Oak, Texas, her old home. Five grown sons survive her. E. H. Steed, of Tupelo, will join Mr. Steed, of this city, this evening, and they will leave via Frisco tonight for Post Oak, Texas.

The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the News.

ADA NOW ABSOLUTELY DRY

The Southern District, and probably the lid is being put on tight today in all towns in the Chickasaw Nation. Dealers are being generously allowed time to ship stocks of goods back to the brewers. Those who try to sell any more will be arrested and their goods smashed.

It is thought the jointists will be quiet for a few days until statehood is proclaimed then try once more to ply their vocation.

It is even possible that many will try to conduct an outright saloon business. Many bar fixtures are being shipped into the Territory just now, which is ominous of such an attempt. Two Denton men have already tried it at Roff. They started out selling genuine Blue Ribbon beer at 25 cents a bottle. It is reported but very soon the "chick" is put a quibus on their business and each of them is now under bond to answer to the grand jury.

Ed Brents says the lid is certainly going to stay on tight now as long as he remains an officer in Ada.

To check a cold quickly get from your druggist some Little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventies. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventies for they are not only safe but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventies contain no Quinine no laxative nothing harsh nor sickening. ## Edgar D. Smith, Insurance.

Than Edgar Smith whose residence is Holdenville probably there is not a more popular life insurance agent in this field. During three years preceding he has been a frequent visitor in Ada and following each visit it would always be safe to assume that many more of the people of the community had prepared for the great contingency and had invested for those dependent. Mr. Smith is district agent of the Merchants Life Association of Burlington, Ia. a company as substantial as he is capable in his business.

The more attractive features offered by this company are included in the very low premium rates, the unusual bonus deposited into the control of the state of Iowa and in the enviable reputation of those men who constitute district and general agents and directors of the company.

Government Ginner's Report.

The government ginner's report on cotton just issued today shows cotton ginned up to Oct. 15 to the number of 1,185,000 bales against 4,910,000 bales for the same period in 1906. But in this report there is lacking 69 counties which last year had ginned 195,000 bales. So to today's report it should be added at least 235,000 bales.

There was a party of Francis ladies shopping in the streets today.

One June Bride.

The June bride frowned. These tomatoes," she said, "are just twice as dear as those across the street. Why is it?"

Ah, ma'am, these—" And the grocer smiled in pity of her ignorance.

"These are hand-picked." She blushed.

"Of course she said, haughty, "I might have known. Give me a bushel please."

BANSHEE OR DEATH WRAITH.

This is One of the Oldest and Most Respectable Ghosts.

One of the oldest and most respectable types of ghost is the banshee, which may be regarded as a near relative of the "death wraith." Inasmuch as it gives warning of impending death by uttering lamentable wails, says Lippincott's. Some families take great pride in the possession of such "spooks," a good example of which is described by Mrs. Levey of 7 Castle terrace London who writes: "The night when my mother lay dying was one of great pain. At about nine o'clock there came a fearful wail of a woman's voice as if swaying to and fro past the windows. I ran to the window, but no human being could be there, as the room was two flights up and no houses near. She died at 10:30 p. m. My father and family sat at dinner on the evening of February 4, 1868 when the same fearful cry or wail filled our house. At eight o'clock next morning my youngest brother died quite suddenly. The same thing happened on my father's death in 1887. Likewise on the death of my sister in 1889 and on the death of another brother in 1890." This banshee seems to have been rather out of place in London such wailing ghosts (which are not seen and can not therefore be properly termed apparitions) being especially domesticated in Ireland where they are usually associated with dilapidated castles and an impoverished and long-dissevered gentry.

Light Toed Gentry.

"The best pickpockets," said the detective "are the Hindoos. You have to call them light toed as well as light-fingered for they can lift a watch or purse as easily with their feet as with their hands. Trained from childhood, these barefooted rascals are wonderfully skillful with their toes. This gives them a great advantage. A Hindoo in a crowd will stand with his arms ostentatiously folded and snuck with his foot the wallet from your trousers pocket."

Tragic Nine of Diamonds.

Carefully preserved at Stairs castle, the Aberdeenshire seat of the earl of Erroll is a single playing card which recalls a never to be forgotten tragedy. It is the nine of diamonds (hence called to this day "the curse of Scotland") on which the duke of Cumberland wrote his order for the butchery of the brave Highlanders who were taken prisoners at the fatal battle of Culloden.

Pen Economy.

The merchant before filling his ink well dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. Thus he said, I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. You see the corrosive power of the ink, which is immensely strong, vents itself on the old pens kept in the well and has little or no strength left wherewith to attack the pen I have in use. Try this schema, young man, and you will find that your pens will practically never wear out."

He Left the House.

While a lady was feeding a hungry tramp the other day she discovered he was pocketing her silver spoons. Opening the door she exclaimed: Drop those spoons, you scoundrel and leave the house! But madam—Leave the house I say! screamed the infuriated woman. "Leave the house! I go madam," said the tramp as he reached the front gate never to return, but before I go I would like to say that I did not intend to take your house.—Illustrated Bits.

Not Equal to Luxuries.

A dapper young man took a seat on a bench in Madison Square Park says the New York Press. Sunning himself at the other end of the bench was as fine a specimen of the genus hobo as ever disfigured a landscape. After seeing himself the dapper young man drew a handsome silver case from his pocket and extracted therefrom a cigarette. With the cigarette between his teeth, he drew out a silver matchbox, to find it empty. Snapping down the lid, he turned to the tramp, hesitated then said: "I beg pardon my friend, but do you happen to have a match?" Hands plunged into his trousers' pockets and legs sprawled out before him the tramp surveyed his neighbor with an air of deep melan choly. "Say," he muttered hoarsely, "who do you think I am—J. Pierpont Morgan?"

Women Who Should Shave.

One thing I am proud of about New York women," said the man who just got home is that they are clean shaven. I never saw anything like the side whiskers and beards on the women in France, Italy and Switzerland. In Paris once I walked into a shoe store and stood there petrified forgetting what I went in for the big brunette cashier at the desk had such a furious mustache."

Advice as to Alaska.

There will be an element of surprise in the advice of Dr. Henry Gannett of the United States geological survey. If you are old go to Alaska by all means but if you are young wait. Mr. Gannett gives this reason for his advice: The scenery of Alaska is much grander than anything else of the kind in the world, and it is not to dull one's capacity for enjoyment by seeing the "fast lights first."

TRUE TO HIS PROMISE.

By Their Own Testimony, Doctor Had Revivified Patients.

A German doctor who claimed to have discovered the secret of "restoring youth," advertised in London that he could in two days rejuvenate the most decrepit old man. This brought a crowd of ancient dames to his house. At the first in view he invited each patient to write her surname. Christian name and age on a piece of paper. The ages were all ruled high. The doctor undertook to give each patient the promised elixir next day. On the appointed day the doctor regretted that he unfortunately had mislaid the paper containing his young seekers' ages, and he therefore requested each one to write it down and call again. In writing down her age the patient had written down her name.

years on the age and promised to have found the first papers, called them to witness comparing the lists that he had kept his word inasmuch as in 48 hours they had all become many years older.

One Step at a Time.

It is wonderful how much practical wisdom about the smallest perplexities of daily life comes to men who keep both their feet and their wishes still until Providence—the world prefers to call it "circumstances"—clears a path for them. No doubt in all our lives there come times when we seem to have been brought into a blind alley and cannot see where we are to go out, but it is very rare indeed that we do not see one step in advance the duty which lies next us. And be sure of this that if we are content to see but one step at a time, and take it, we shall find our way made plain.—Rev. A. A. MacLaren.

ADA NOW ABSOLUTELY DRY

All Two Per Cent Beer Joints Closed by Deputy U. S. Marshal Brents--No More Malt Liquors, However Weak, will be Tolerated Sold

During the forenoon Deputy U. S. Marshal E. Brents served notice on all the salaried joints of Ada that they must cease doing business and close at lunch noon and stay closed as long as the federal officers have authority in this section—in other words until statehood is proclaimed. All joints have apparently complied, and Ada is now as "dry" as any town ever has been.

It has been many a day since Ada was what is termed a wide open town, one where it was easy to procure intoxicating liquors.

But because of more or less uncertainty about the law the officers have not vigorously fought the sale of weak malt liquors the so-called "two per cent" beer. So Ada like most other towns in the territory has supported all along several joints whose chief income was from the sale of such beer. But it appears to be all over now at least until statehood then the problem will be up to the county officers to grapple with.

Deputy Brents returned from Ardmore this morning with orders from Marshal Porter to close em up and later he received a telegram from Santa Fe, Pecos foot Johnson's deputy containing like orders. It appears that Johnson's force and the U. S. marshal are co-operating in this shut down in Ada. (Continued on Page Four)

INDIANS ON THE WAR PATH

Utes of the Far West Sore at Advancing Civilization--U. S. Troops Requested to Subdue the Braves

Washington, Oct. 25.—The tribe of Utes Indians which more than a year ago wandered away from their reservation in Utah and created trouble in Colorado and Wyoming by threatening to take the war path and raid ranches reported to have again broken out on the Cheyenne river reservation in South Dakota where the tribe was given temporary quarters. At the request of the secretary of the interior the war department yesterday ordered troops from Fort Meade, S. D. to the scene of the trouble. The character of the outbreak is not known here.

Colonel Downs, a special agent of the Indian office is at the Cheyenne river reservation and a telegram was received from him saying that the Utes had become unruly and troops are needed. Fort Meade is about 100 miles from the reservation and it will be necessary for the cavalry to make a cross country hike as there is no railroad between the two points.

It was dissatisfaction with advancing civilization that caused the Utes to leave their reservation in Utah and take the road the last time. The secretary of the interior finally agreed that the Indians would not be compelled to return to Utah and that they must settle down on some reservation. At the U. S. request the Cheyenne river reservation was selected and two townships were leased for a period of five years to supply them with homes.

There are about 600 of the Utes involved including many young Indians.

MILLIONS AFFORD RELIEF

$100,000,000 Poured in by Government and Financiers Averts Panic in New York--Outlook Encouraging

New York, Oct. 24.—The aggregate of money which has been contributed to weather the storm and restore confidence assumes truly colossal proportions. Roughly estimated it includes $2,000,000 which Secretary Cortis deposited in the New York banks, $1,000,000 which the Morgan pool brought to the floor, $10,000,000 which John D. Rockefeller deposited with the Union Trust company and finally another $1,000,000 which it is understood Mr. Rockefeller stood ready to advance to meet any further stress of conditions, all considerably in excess of $10,000,000.

As a result of today's developments in the financial world there is every indication that the crisis in the bank and trust company situation has been passed. The trust company situation all through the day has been put out money to the point as rapidly as possible and the episode of the day was the emptying of money into the stock exchange through a pool headed by J. P. Morgan and other financiers in order to avert a ruthless selling out of stocks held by brokers which was threatened because of their inability to obtain renewals of loans on which these stocks had been carried.

A remarkable condition brought about this extreme stringency. Certain large interests of great financial resources had been charging recently what was in effect if not legally usurious rates of interest on call loans. One institution that had been engaged in this practice was itself a member of the clearing house and was severely criticized by other bankers for its action on the ground that this added an unnecessary complication and strain on the money situation. As a result of the criticism this institution withdrew its support and declined to

RED LETTER DAY FOR OKLAHOMA

First Work of the State Immigration Association.

On the day that President Roosevelt signs the proclamation that makes Oklahoma a state, Red Letters will be mailed from all over Oklahoma to thousands of people in every state in the Union, advising them of the event.

The Oklahoma Immigration and Industrial Development Association, composed of the commercial, agricultural, and representative business and professional men of the state, has been organized for the purpose of exploring and developing the resources and opportunities of Oklahoma with a view to increasing the already large and steady influx of new settlers to our state.

Thousands of special letter heads upon which is printed matter descriptive of Oklahoma and its advantages, has been prepared by Secretary J. H. Jones of the association and mailed to all the business and professional men of the state through the commercial organizations. It is to be expected that this is expected to write to ten or more friends outside the state upon this red letter stationery, telling of the wonderful opportunities afforded by the new state in every line of business, agricultural, mechanical and industrial.

All of these letters are to be mailed on the day that President Roosevelt signs the proclamation admitting Oklahoma to the union. The association hopes by this plan to thoroughly cover the United States and thereby attract many new settlers to the new state.

The Immigration Association is understanding a great work for Oklahoma and it is hoped that the hearty support and co-operation of all the people will be given to this, its first effort.

closed today with half demands having been met.

A very favorable feature of the situation respecting this company was that it was able to make its payments with very little assistance and another was that the company received over its counters in the morning hours in ordinary deposits more than $1,000,000.

The day was marked by these noteworthy episodes. First and earliest in the day came the announcement of trouble in three minor state banks in Harlem—the Hamilton bank, the Twelfth ward bank and the Empire City Savings bank. These banks transacted only a neighborhood business and their suspension of payment was absolutely without significance as being along on the general situation. State Bank Examiner Judson declared this afternoon that all three were solvent and that their depositors would lose nothing.

The second episode was a big run begun upon the Lincoln Trust company. At the close of the day the company's officials announced that they were fully able to meet all obligations. By far the most notable, even dramatic money on call on the stock exchange. The effect of this was to put the rate for money today up to 10 per cent and when that figure was noted in extreme sharp decline resulted in the stock market. On Pacific a ten per cent stock sold down to par.

At the time that excitement was at its height the announcement was made that a pool had been formed with J. P. Morgan at its head to come to the rescue of the broke stock market and to provide funds at once in order that they might carry stocks they were holding for their customers.

The effect of the relief measure was instantaneous and the rate of call money dropped from 100 per cent to ten per cent. When the stock exchange closed every one was getting all the money he wanted. The close was marked by a memorable scene in which the brokers gathered around the principal trading posts and gave three cheers for J. Pierpont Morgan and the members of the pool who had saved the day.

Thanks for the Roses.

Judge J. P. Wood presented the editor with a beautiful bouquet of roses today. They are especially to be prized at this time of the year in a town which has no greenhouse. The judge also presented us with an enormous lemon, one of 28 which grew on a dwarf tree only four feet high. This lemon came not as the proverbial lemon of slandorm, but like the flowers, as a token of good will.

While Judge Wood is a thorough-going gentleman of the old Southern school and so naturally likes flowers and all things really beautiful—still The News suspects its gratitude is due rather to the ladies of the Judge's household who in all probability had more to do with the nurture of the roses.

Progress on Waterworks.

As is usually the case in completing big pieces of construction, the new waterworks plant has not been completed as soon as expected.

The work of installing the new pumps and motors is still in progress, and will not be finished before next week.

One of the line shafts connecting pumps with motor got bent and had to be taken to the cement company's machine shops for repairs, and it has not been easy to get laborers needed to wind up the work.

Today a force of men began construction of the telephone line to connect the pumping station with the city.

J. P. Steed's Mother Dead.

A delayed message came to Mr. J. P. Steed, one of Ada's leading merchants, this a. m. announcing the sudden death of his mother, Mrs. Jane Steed, aged 75 years, at her home in Groom, Texas.

The message was dated 3 p. m. yesterday, the 21st, and on account of the strike, was sent to Dallas, and mailed from that point here.

The intelligence was quite a shock to Mr. Steed, as he says that when he last heard from her, two weeks ago, she was in perfect health.

The last resting place of the aged mother will be at Post Oak, Texas, her old home. Five grown sons survive her. E. H. Steed, of Tupelo, will join Mr. Steed, of this city, this evening, and they will leave via Frisco tonight for Post Oak, Texas.

The bereaved ones have the sympathy of the News.

Showman is Prepared to Enjoy Life on the Road.

The family of W. L. Swain, of the W. L. Swain Theatrical company, is on the road with Mr. Swain practically all the time, but its members suffer none of the hardships of the ordinary thespian, for he has provided for them a special car of the Pullman type that is a model for ease and comfort. The car was erected four years ago at a cost of $16,000 and would easily cost $26,000 at present prices. For the family use one-half of the space is taken up with drawing room and office, buffet and sleeping room. These are equipped as if they were rooms of the modern dwelling, every necessity and convenience being supplied. The remainder of the car is divided into guest chambers, dining room, sleeping rooms for other members of the company and store rooms of various kinds. Hot and cold water all over the car, the finest beds and bedding that can be bought and every luxury in the refrigerators and closets make life worth living on this traveling palace. Ornament has not been neglected in building the car, either, for every available space has been utilized in decoration, and every surface on the interior is covered with imported French plate mirrors. The outside of the car is finished with varnished poplar and the inside with quarter-sawn oak and solid brass trimmings. The three wheel trucks that make the car ride every joint with the slightest jar make traveling a pleasure for those who are fortunate enough to be its inhabitants.

HOCH BOOSTS FOR #### JUDGE DICKERSON.

Washington, Oct. 24—Affairs of state, applications for political appointments and personal visitors occupied President Roosevelt today. Governor Hoch, of Kansas, and Senator Curtis of that state, presented the name of James T. Dickerson of Chickasha, I. T., for federal judgeship in Oklahoma.

Governor Frantz, accompanied by a delegation, left Oklahoma City today for Washington, hearing the constitution of the new state. Governor Hoch said he belonged to a band of third-termers in Kansas, who would "run over everybody else at the national convention like a herd of Texas steers."

The first cabinet meeting since June will take place tomorrow.

Acting Secretary of War Oliver conferred with the president on the location of the statue of General Grant, the excavations for which in the botanical gardens in this city was recently suspended on the president's instructions, after protests that it involved the cutting down of historic trees.

General Granville M. Dodge and other members of the statue commission will be summoned here soon to confer on the subject.

ADA NOW ABSOLUTELY DRY

the Southern District, and probably the lid is being put on tight today in all towns in the Chickasaw Nation. Dealers are being generously allowed time to ship stocks of goods back to the brewers. Those who try to sell any more will be arrested and their goods smashed.

It is thought the jointlists will lie quiet for a few days, until statehood is proclaimed, then try once more to ply their vocation.

It is even possible that many will try to conduct an outright saloon business. Many bar fixtures are being shipped into the Territory just now, which is ominous of such an attempt. Two Denison men have already tried it at Roff. They started out selling genuine "Blue Ribbon" beer at 25 cents a bottle, it is reported, but very soon the officers put a quietus on their business, and each of them is now under bond to answer to the grand jury.

Ed Brents says the lid is certainly going to stay on tight now as long as he remains an officer in Ada.

To check a cold quickly get from your druggist some little Candy Cold Tablets called Preventics. Druggists everywhere are now dispensing Preventics, for they are not only safe, but decidedly certain and prompt. Preventics contain no Quinine, no laxative, nothing harsh nor sickening. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will prevent Pneumonia, Bronchitis, La Grippe, etc. Hence the name, Preventics. Good for feverish children. 48 Preventics 25 cents. Trial Boxes 5 cts. #### Edgar D. Smith, Insurance.

Than Edgar Smith, whose residence is Holdenville, probably there is not a more popular life insurance agent in this field. During three years preceding, he has been a frequent visitor in Ada, and following each visit it would always be safe to assume that many more of the people of the community had prepared for the great contingency and had invested for those dependant. Mr. Smith is district agent of the Merchants' Life Association of Burlington, Ia., a company as substantial as he is capable in his business.

The more attractive features offered by this company are included in the very low premium, rates, the unusual large reserve deposited under the control of the state of Iowa and in the enviable reputation of those men who constitute district and general agents and directory of the company.

Government Ginner's Report.

The government ginner's report on cotton, just issued today, shows cotton ginned up to Oct. 15 to the number of 1,185,000 bales, against 4,910,000 bales for the same period in 1906. But in this report there is lacking 69 counties which last year, had ginned 495,000 bales. So, to today's report should be added at least 235,000 bales.

The June bride frowned. "These tomatoes," she said, "are just twice as dear as those across the street. Why is it?"

"Ah, ma'am, these—"

And the grocer smiled in pity of her ignorance.

"—these are hand-picked."

She blushed.

"Of course, she said, hastily, 'I might have known. Give me a bushel of these!'"

THIS IS ONE OF THE OLDEST AND MOST RESPECTABLE GHOSTS.

One of the oldest and most respectable types of ghost is the banshee, which may be regarded as a near relative of the "death wraith." Inasmuch as it gives warning of impending death by uttering lamentable wails, says Lippincott's. Some families take great pride in the possession of such "spooks," a good example of which is described by Mrs. Levey of 7 Castle terrace, London, who writes: "The night when my mother lay dying was one of great pain. At about nine o'clock there came a fearful wail of a woman's voice, as if swaying to and fro past the windows. I ran to the window, but no human being could be there, as the room was two flights up and no houses near. She died at 10:30 p. m. My father and family sat at dinner on the evening of February 4, 1868, when the same fearful cry or wail filled our house. At eight o'clock next morning my youngest brother died quite suddenly. The same thing happened on my father's death in 1887; likewise on the death of my sister in 1889; and on the death of another brother in 1890." This banshee seems to have been rather out of place in London, such wailing ghosts (which are not seen and cannot therefore be properly termed apparitions) being especially domesticated in Ireland, where they are usually associated with dilapidated castles and an impoverished and long-dead gentry.

Light-Toed Gentry.

"The best pickpockets," said the detective, "are the Hindoos. You have to call them light-toed as well as light-fingered, for they can lift a watch or purse as easily with their feet as with their hands. Trained from childhood, these bare-footed rascals are wonderfully skillful with their toes. This gives them a great advantage. A Hindoo in a crowd will stand with his arms ostentatiously folded and sneak with his foot the wallet from your trousers pocket."

Tragic Nine of Diamonds.

Carefully preserved at Stairs castle, the Aberdeenshire seat of the earl of Erroll, is a single playing card which recalls a never to be forgotten tragedy. It is the nine of diamonds (hence called to this day "the curse of Scotland"), on which the duke of Cumberland wrote his order for the butchery of the brave Highlanders who were taken prisoners at the fatal battle of Culloden.

Pen Economy.

The merchant before filling his ink-well dropped in two or three old pens and poured the writing fluid upon them. "Thus," he said, "I practice pen economy, prolonging three or four times the life of all my pens. You see, the corrosive power of the ink, which is immensely strong, vents itself on the old pens kept in the well and has little or no strength left wherewith to attack the pen I have in use. Try this scheme, young man, and you will find that your pens will practically never wear out."

He Left the House.

While a lady was feeding a hungry tramp the other day she discovered he was pocketing her silver spoons. Opening the door, she exclaimed, "Drop those spoons, you scoundrel, and leave the house!" "But, madam—" "Leave the house, I say!" screamed the infuriated woman. "Leave the house!" "I go, madam," said the tramp, as he reached the front gate, "never to return; but before I go I would like to say that I did not intend to take your house."—Illustrated Bits.

Not Equal to Luxuries.

A dapper young man took a seat on a bench in Madison Square Park, says the New York Press. Stunning himself at the other end of the bench was as fine a specimen of the genus hobo as ever disgraced a landscape. After seating himself the dapper young man drew a handsome silver case from his pocket and extracted therefrom a cigarette. With the cigarette between his teeth, he drew out a silver matchbox, to find it empty. Snapping down the lid, he turned to the tramp, hesitated, then said: "I beg pardon, my friend, but do you happen to have a match?" Hands plunged into his trousers' pockets and legs sprawled out before him, the tramp surveyed his neighbor with an air of deep melancholy. "Say," he muttered hoarsely, "who do you think I am—J. Pierpont Morgan?"

Women Who Should Shave.

"One thing I am proud of about New York women," said the man who just got home, "is that they are clean shaven. I never saw anything like the side-whiskers and beards on the women in France, Italy and Switzerland. In Paris once I walked into a shoe store and stood there petrified, forgetting what I went in for, the big brunette cashier at the desk had such a furious mustache."

Advice as to Alaska.

There will be an element of surprise in the advice of Dr. Henry Gannett, of the United States geological survey. "If you are old, go to Alaska by all means; but if you are young, wait." Mr. Gannett gives this reason for his advice: "The scenery of Alaska is much grander than anything else of the kind in the world, and it is not so dull one's capacity for enjoyment by seeing the finest sights first."

TRUE TO HIS PROMISE.

By Their Own Testimony, Doctor Had Rejuvenated Patients.

A German doctor who claimed to have discovered the secret of restoring youth, advertised in London that he could in two days rejuvenate the most decrepit man. This brought a crowd of ancient dames to his house. At the first interview he invited each patient to write her surname, Christian name and age on a piece of paper. The ages whereof they pleaded gullily varied, but all ruled high. The doctor undertook to give each patient the promised elixir next day. On the appointed day the doctor regretted that he unfortunately had mislaid the paper containing his youth-seekers' ages, and he, therefore, requested each one to write it down and call again. In writing down her age the doctor found that many of the women took many years or the age was given. He admitted. The doctor, pretending to have found the first papers, called them to witness, comparing the lists, that he had kept his word, inasmuch as in 48 hours they had all become many years younger.

One Step at a Time.

It is wonderful how much practical wisdom about the smallest perplexities of daily life comes to men who keep both their feet and their wishes still until Providence—the world prefers to call it "circumstances"—clears a path for them. No doubt in all our lives there come times when we seem to have been brought into a blind alley, and cannot see where we are to get out; but it is very rare indeed that we do not see one step in advance the duty which lies next us. And be sure of this, that if we are content to see but one step at a time, and take it, we shall find our way made plain.—Rev. Alex. J. MacLaren
